I have been asked to write a very brief message to the school. Nothing more appropriate comes to me than a quotation from John Dewey—"Learn to act with and for others while you learn to think and judge for yourself."

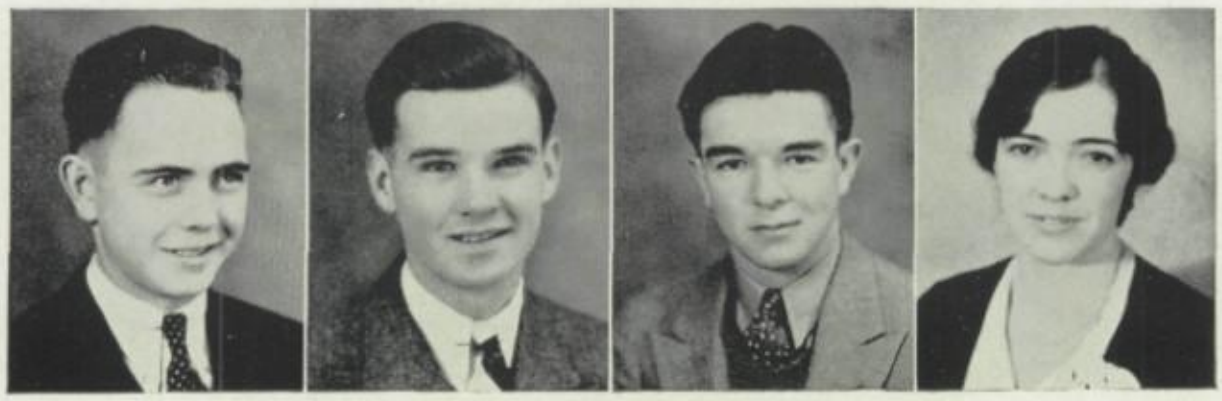
SENIORS



SENIOR CLASS ACTIVITIES

Four years ago we thought that the title of "Seniors" would never be ours, but now we can hardly realize that our place will soon be taken by another class and that we will not be M. H. S. students any longer.

We were the first freshman class to enter the new Missoula High School building. As enterprising sophomores, we demanded recognition as a class. With Miss Hazel Swearingen as the first sophomore class sponsor, Charlotte Fritz, Guy Rogers, Marian Hawker, and Mildred Robinson as officers. A series of matinee dances, the Sophomore Party, and Valentine Day Assembly were the high spots of the year.

As juniors, with Mrs. Florence Keeton for sponsor, we selected Charlotte Fritz again as president, and Valerie Kennedy and Gordon Watts as vice-president and secretary, respectively. The Barn Dance was even more successful than we had hoped. The plump, mustardy hot dogs were served for the first time at two football games that fall. Under the supervision of Mrs. Keeton and the Junior Council, "The Count of Monte Cristo" was sponsored. By this time enough money had been earned to produce the finest of Junior Proms. The Christmas Dance and the Bubble Ball caused the rest of the school to smile with approval, but it was the Prom which capped the climax of a full and eventful year.

Coming back as seniors, we felt very proud. Miss Violet M. Boileau consented to be our advisor and after electing Sydney Kraabel, president; Bob Parker, vice-president; and Wallace Ross, secretary-treasurer, we became fired with ambition. Richard Bush, Mary Alice Dickson, Gertrude Neff, Roy Myklebust, Margaret Hayes, Marie Ray, Gordon Watts and Margaret Wheelbarger were appointed as a Senior Council. The Senior Mixer was presented as our first party featuring door prizes and clever decorations. An annual drive was sponsored and the 1936 Bitter Root was loyally supported. The class, starting out energetically to raise money for the yearbook, revived the Senior Carnival, which was declared to be worth all the effort. Though the future of the annual was now secure, we still aimed at something that a senior class had never before attempted. A "Hoe-Down" with cowboy music and old-time dances was the result. As a last all-school dance we presented our annual Spring Frolic.

Organizing during the sophomore year under the leadership of Miss Hazel Swearingen as sponsor; Blaine Normandeau, president; and Eugene Hames, secretary, their activities consisted of a series of matinee dances and a spring party at which they honored the freshmen.

This year the Juniors have had Mrs. Florence Keeton as sponsor; Marie Brown, president; Walter Hensolt, vice-president; and Josephine Bugli, secretary. Hot dog sales at football games, the Barn Dance, and Christmas Party proved as popular as in previous years. "Three Musketeers" was sponsored and drew a large crowd. An especially beautiful Junior Prom brought a successful year to a close.

SOPHOMORES

Murphey Paxson Pew Miss Swearingen

SOPHOMORE CLASS ACTIVITIES

The class of '38 is outstanding for its enthusiasm at all school affairs. They began their activities last year, with Miss Marion Davis as sponsor, by electing Dorothy Ann Murphey, president; Bill Stine, vice-president; and Charles Pew, secretary. A party which they held with the sophomores was their only social function, but they were always ready to turn out for everything.

Leaders of the class for this year were Dorothy Ann Murphey, president; Charles Pew, vice-president; and Betty Paxson, secretary. The most important events of the year were the annual Sophomore Party and the joint party of the freshmen and sophomores.

FRESHMEN

FRESHMAN CLASS ACTIVITIES

Not only has the sophomore class proved unusually active, but the freshmen have been accomplishing a great deal this year, also. Although their only party was one which they held with the sophomores this spring, they supported all high school doings with an unusually good showing. By their behavior this year it is freely predicted that they will be one of the outstanding groups during the rest of their years in M. H. S. Officers were Marshall Small, president; Douglas Campbell, vice-president; and Ruby Plummer, secretary. Miss Marion Davis was their sponsor.

THE NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Founded by the Department of Secondary School Principals, a branch of the National Education Association, the National Honor Society has been in existence in Missoula High School since February, 1921, when it was organized under Charter No. 13. Since that time it has been one of the most important of the school's organizations, membership to which is based upon scholarship, character, leadership, and service.

At the beginning of the school year there were two members in school, who had the distinct honor of being elected in their Junior year. Twenty-seven members were chosen to belong to the group at the annual Honor Society assembly, held March 25, after much work and deliberation by the faculty committee, under the direction of Miss Edna A. Mann, sponsor of the organization. The annual banquet, an invitation ceremony, was held on April 1 at the Florence Hotel, when new officers were elected.

Student Council

STUDENTS' ASSOCIATION

By having a Students' Association, members of Missoula High School are better able to support school activities. The organization's membership card entitles the student to see all home football and basketball games, receive the school paper, and attend social functions where identification is required.

One member of each Home Room is elected to serve on the Student Council. The group has power to decide whether or not any money-making scheme shall be adopted, to award letters and emblems, and to serve otherwise in forwarding the best interests of the school. The principal of the high school has absolute veto power.

The president of the Students' Association, Gordon Watts, is president of the council, ex officio. Ruth Eastman, vice-president of the Students' Association, is a member of the council, ex officio. She was also elected as secretary of the group. Mr. L. C. Ennis is permanent treasurer.

GIRLS' CLUB

As a club to which all girls in school belong, the Girls' Club is one of the most active organizations in school. The money it raises goes into projects brought before it by school groups, the latest project being to landscape the high school grounds. During the year, also, the club has contributed regularly to the Girls' Club Library which it started last year.

To finance its projects and to provide enjoyment for the students, the group has given several parties: the Co-ed Prom, at which the girls entertained their little sisters; the Kid Party in December; and a formal program dance, to which the girls invited the boys, held in March. Early in May the girls gave a program and a tea at which they entertained their mothers. The popular Girls' Club Candy Stand in the lower hall had an especially prosperous year.

This year the officers were Valerie Kennedy, president; Charlotte Finley, vice-president; and Marie Brown, secretary.

Miss Agnes Brown is adviser of the Social Committee; Miss Jean Morgan Mair, the Membership Committee; Miss Audrey Proctor, the Guidance Committee which put out for the first time a guide book for freshmen; Miss Elsie Wadell, the Finance Committee; Miss Neva Copeland, the Program Committee; and Miss Gertrude Clark, the Social Service Committee.

QUILL AND SCROLL

Quill and Scroll, the International Honorary Society for High School Journalists, was founded in 1926 by a group of teachers who wished to recognize and to reward worthy high school journalists. To become a member, a student must be in the upper third of his class in scholarship; he must have done superior work in some phase of high school journalism; and he must be recommended by the high school sponsor, as well as by the national officer of the society.

The Margaret Ronan Chapter was organized here in 1927. During the past year one formal initiation was held at which Miss Ione Lake, sponsor, and Walter Coombs, president, officiated. Activities of the group included a spring picnic, a news examination, and the publishing of the "Kopee," a school literary magazine. Concluding the year's program members attended the annual Press Club Banquet which was held during Trackmeet at the Montana State University.

Several members won places in National Quill and Scroll contests.

THESPIANS

To belong to Thespians, the dramatic organization of Missoula High School, which was organized here during the school year 1929-30, aspirants must earn twenty-five points in various ways connected with dramatic productions or by working on the stage.

In June of 1935 Beth Clinger was elected president, and Margaret Hayes, secretary-treasurer for the following year. This school year the Thespians presented "Cock Robin" and "Quality Street," besides a group of one-acts.

STAGE SCREWS

On five nights a week and during all productions and assemblies, the stage is in charge of boys who are interested in stage work. They form an organization called the Stage Screws of which any one of the student body may be a member. This work goes unnoticed by the majority of students, but without them the beautiful sets which are seen in the various plays would not be made.

Miss Mary V. Harris acts as faculty supervisor.

THE "M" CLUB

To gain membership in the "M" Club a boy must have won his letter in any of the major sports. Officers who served this year were Herb Searles, president; Guy Rogers, vice-president; and Arthur Kimball, secretary-treasurer.

Its principle activity, the "M" Club Dance, was held in January, the proceeds of which went toward the purchasing of "M" sweaters for the members of the organization.

THE PEP CLUB

Organized to further interest in school activities and to work for better school spirit, the Pep Club, under the direction of Mr. Harold J. Hunt, had a successful school year.

Bill Kennedy, Ruth Eastman, and Margaret Wheelbarger were elected officers early in the school year. Under their guidance, Pep Club members acted as a small police force, seating spectators at football and basketball games and generally keeping order.

THE RADIO CLUB

Radio Club meetings this year have included many interesting and instructive programs, at several of which motion pictures were shown. The Telephone Building, the local radio station, and the Wilma Theatre were among the places visited by the group. During the latter part of April the annual picnic was held in Riverside Park.

Joseph Mitch, president; Billy Maclay, vice-president; and Stanley Ames, secretary-treasurer, were the officers for the year. Mr. Wilson was faculty adviser of the Club.

THE FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA

During the past year, the Missoula Chapter of the Future Farmers of America, sponsored by Mr. Charles M. Homer, was headed by Otto Benson, president; John Bauer, vice-president; and Earl Hiett, secretary. The purpose of this organization is to further acquaint the agriculturally-minded students with proper cultivation and stock raising methods.

EL CLUB ESPANOL

To promote and stimulate interest in the Spanish language is the purpose of El Club Espanol. At the first meeting of the year, held September 17, Mary Helen Dratz was elected president; Joe Haytin, vice-president; Steve Gajan, secretary; Bob Manley, treasurer; and Betty Mae Ulrigg, chairman of the program committee. Although the meetings were irregular during the fall, the club had a very active year. Several unusual programs planned by Mary Margaret Squire and Margaret Gove were presented at the meetings.

LE CERCLE FRANCAIS

Open to all students who take French, Le Cercle Francais has proven very popular this year. Its main purpose is to provide useful knowledge of the French people. During the year the club held several social affairs. Officers were Walter Coombs, president; Valerie Kennedy, vice-president; Jean Dickson, secretary; and Walter King, treasurer. Miss Mildred Ammer is the faculty sponsor.

"M" GIRLS

It is much harder for a girl to earn an "M" than for a boy. To win an "M," a girl must earn at least 600 points which requires an all-around ability in athletics.

The four girls who won "M" 's this year are Ruth Eastman, Mildred Robinson and Colby Knapp, seniors, and Elizabeth Hardin, junior. The achievement of the latter in making her letter this year is exceptional.

THE GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Under the leadership of Eileen Hamilton, president; Colby Knapp, vice-president; Doris Buck, secretary; and Marjorie Walker, hike chairman, the Girls' Athletic Association has been an active group.

Sixty girls turned out for basketball. From the G. A. A. teams an honorary all-star basketball squad was chosen: Colby Knapp, Ina McComb, Arabel Burgess, Eileen Hamilton and Martha deMers, forwards; Shirley Timm, Dorothy Benzel, Maribeth Kitt, Ruth Eastman and Marjorie Walker, guards.

GIRL RESERVES

Under the leadership of Louise Brodie, president; Anne Forssen, vice-president; Irma Randall, secretary; Barbara Mahrt, treasurer; and Miss Fay Fouts, sponsor, the Girl Reserves were especially active during the past year.

The most important social affair was a formal program dance held at the high school on February 15. A Treasure Hunt in Greenough Park proved to be unusual entertainment. During Girls' Week, April 1-10, the girls gave a tea in the high school lunch room for their mothers.

CAMPFIRE GIRLS

One of the Campfire Girls' Organizations in Missoula is the one in Missoula High School. The girls are under the guardianship of Mrs. Edward Dobrinz, and the officers which they elected are the following: Isabel Messer, president; Jean Houtz, vice-president; Katherine Clark, secretary-treasurer; and Marjorie Abel, Scribe. This year was the 25th anniversary of the founding of the Campfire Girls, and a Grand Council Fire of all the groups in Missoula was held to celebrate it.

THE GIRLS' SEXTETTE

Although it has made few appearances and has not been very active this year, the Girls' Sextette is one of the school's finer musical groups. The six girls who compose it are chosen from among the best singers in the Glee Club, several of the members having won first or second places in the Music Meet.

Josephine Bugli and Helen Faulkner, sopranos; Ruth Eastman and Anne Marie Forssen, second sopranos; and Patsy Murray and Marian Hawker, altos, were the members of the Sextette.

THE NORDICA CLUB

Belonging to the National Federation of Music Clubs, the Nordica Club has for its purpose the furthering of better music among the students of the school. At the meetings held twice a month, entertaining and instructive programs are offered.

Officers for the year were Wallace Konzack, president; Ruth Eastman, vice-president; and Evren Hulse, secretary-treasurer. Miss Bernice Beaumont was the faculty sponsor.

MIXED CHORUS

Students interested in extra-curricular singing may be members of the Mixed Chorus. This organization has not been very active this year, performing at only a few assemblies. With Miss Bernice Beaumont as director, it was featured in the Spring Concert during Music Week. It also added greatly to the beauty of the Baccalaureate and the Commencement exercises.

The officers of the organization were Margaret Hayes, president; Bill Horning, vice-president; and Mary Helen Dratz, social secretary. Phyllis Lytle was accompanist for the group during the first semester; Ruth Clough, the second semester.

A CAPELLA CHOIR

Next to the Glee Clubs the A Capella Choir is the largest musical organization in the school. Chosen from members of the other vocal groups, the choir sings without any musical accompaniment under the direction of Miss Bernice Beaumont. They appeared throughout the year on several assembly programs, as well as having sung before various city organizations.

BOYS' QUARTETTE

Composed of selected voices from the Glee Club, the Boys' Quartette included Leland Buker, first tenor; Leonard Kuffel, second tenor; Elmer Barrett, first bass; and Wallace Konzack, second bass.

This group of boys under the direction of Miss Bernice Beaumont has appeared this year on several assembly programs, the Spring Concert, and at several meetings of the Missoula Woman's Club.

THE BOYS' GLEE CLUB

Participating in several programs this year, the Boys' Glee Club has proved itself a worthy organization. It appeared at the Band Concert in March, at the Masonic Temple in conjunction with other members of the music department, and at the Spring Concert, as well as at different assembly programs. In March the Boys' Glee Club held a party with the other musical organizations directed by Miss Bernice Beaumont.

Carl Ashford was president of the group; Jack O'Neil, vice-president; and Josephine Bugli, accompanist.

THE MIXED QUARTETTE

Although not as well known or as active as the Boys' Quartette, the Mixed Quartette is one of the better musical groups of the school. The members this year were Josephine Bugli, soprano; Ruth Eastman, alto; Leland Buker, tenor; and Wallace Konzack, bass.

THE GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

Under the leadership of Miss Bernice Beaumont, the Girls' Glee Club began its activities at two assembly performances. During the month of March, the Glee Club and other organizations of the music department gave a concert at the Masonic Temple. In this month, also, the girls sang at the high school band concert and at a Daffodil Tea at the Presbyterian Church. On March 28 they held a party with the Boys' Glee Club and the orchestra in the lunchroom. The activities of the year were climaxed with the Spring Concert and terminated when they sang at the Baccalaureate Services and the Commencement.

THE GIRLS' DRUM CORPS

A close rival of the High School Band in popularity is the Girls' Drum Corps, an organization whose members are chiefly freshman and sophomore girls. It was started last year by Miss Gladys Price, and, given impetus by the direction of Mr. Leslie Clifford, has risen rapidly to become one of Missoula High School's most active musical organizations. It has appeared at most of the football games this year and played at the Interscholastic Trackmeet.

The regulation corps uniform is white coat, trousers, and cap, and turned-back cape with the school colors of purple and gold. The Drum Corps, although it has worked and probably will continue to work mainly in conjunction with the Band, is a well-organized group in itself. The officers included Peggy Shannon, president; Arabel Burgess, treasurer; and June Fuge, secretary.

THE ORCHESTRA

Although there was not such a large turnout, the orchestra presented several programs during this year. Under the direction of Miss Bernice Beaumont much interest has been shown. Programs were presented at a school assembly and at the Masonic Lodge. New music was purchased in December which gave an added stimulus to the playing. Officers elected at the beginning of the year were Walter King, president; Conrad Priess, vice-president; Joe Mudd, librarian.

FIFE AND BUGLE CORPS

Newest among the school's many musical organizations, is the Fife and Bugle Corps, which was started this year. It is composed of freshman and sophomore girls, directed by Mr. Leslie Clifford.

It has been making fine progress and promises to equal, and perhaps even outdistance, the Drum Corps in popularity. Playing at the Interscholastic Trackmeet this spring, the Corps has proven its worth in keeping school spirit high.

With the excellence of their playing, after practicing regularly all spring, and their work in conjunction with the Drum Corps, there is a possibility of the two organizations being combined, the many members of which would make a fine showing.

BAND

Since its organization a little more than a year ago, the band has made rapid progress. Under the direction of Mr. Lester Smith, this organization has proven successful, not only by its concerts, but by its work both at the football games and at the trackmeet. During March the first annual public concert was presented. The proceeds from this benefit performance were used to buy new music and new instruments. Money with which to purchase uniforms was raised by sponsoring a motion picture and through donations of both money and time by the downtown service clubs.

Officers of the organization were Howard Heggum, president; Joe Mudd, vice-president; and Charles Hulse, secretary.

FOOTBALL

The 1935 football season opened with one of the finest prospective squads in years. A complete backfield returned from last year's club composed of Guy Rogers, quarterback; Larry Potter and Vic Grace, halfbacks; and Blaine Normandeau, fullback. Seven regulars remained from the previous season's forward line. They were Robinson and Figg, tackles; Perry, Chidley and Captain Searles, ends; Blahnik and Ackerlund, guards. The only weak spot, it seemed, was at the pivot position which was alternately filled throughout the season by Kimball, Stanfield, and Hensolt.

Coach Sam B. Kain, whose career here has been an outstanding one, started his fourth year as athletic mentor of Missoula County High School. Although not capturing the state title, his teams, three of which he has piloted to the state semi-finals, have been consistent winners. This year the Purple and Gold squad fought its way to the semi-finals for the third consecutive year, but elusive ball-carrying and well-timed passing attacks failed to convert needed touchdowns against Great Falls. The Bisons averaging 19 pounds to the man heavier than the Missoula line-up, broke up play after play and overwhelmed the Missoulians 26-6.

Although losing several players who will be hard to replace, Coach Kain predicts a very promising season next fall with many fine prospects arriving from Coach Carroll Miller's reserve squad.

MISSOULA 25, WALLACE, IDAHO 0.

The first scheduled game was with the '34 champs of Northern Idaho, Wallace. This game played on Victory Field showed Missoula that they had a good football team. The Idaho club was beaten 25 to 0.

MISSOULA 12, BUTTE PUBLIC 13.

Though losing by a one-point margin, the Purple and Gold representatives outplayed the Purples of Butte Public at Butte. Effective driving, tackling, and blocking netted Missoula 154 yards from scrimmage to that of 55 yards for the Miners. Although we lost the game it showed how very effective the power of the eleven could be.

MISSOULA 25, WHITEFISH 0.

Playing an impressive game of offensive and defensive football, Coach Kain's warriors decisively trounced the Fishers at Whitefish with the final score being 25 to 0. The battle was noticeable for smooth-working forward-laterals and hard, clean blocking and tackling.

MISSOULA 40, KALISPELL 14.

The Kalispell-Missoula game held in Missoula was one of the highlights of the Missoula football season. Passing and long runs featured the game for both teams. Guy Rogers, Purple and Gold quarterback, contributed 33 of the 40 points made by Missoula. Stenson of the Flathead delegation displayed some very clever ball carrying. The final score stood at 40 to 14.

MISSOULA 28, BUTTE CENTRAL 7.

Brilliant offensive playing but noticeably weak defensive tactics marked the victory over the Maroons of Butte Central on Dornblaser Field. Rogers continued on his scoring spree and accounted for 26 of the points. This game seemed to mark the beginning of the slump in the defense, although the offensive playing seemed to offset it. The game ended with the score 28 to 7 in Missoula's favor.

MISSOULA 19, ANACONDA 0.

In defeating the Anaconda Copperheads, with a score of 19 to 0, the Purple and Gold gridsters qualified to meet the Great Falls eleven for the Northern Montana championship and the semi-finals for the state title.

The game featured numerous intercepted passes and large gains from running attacks. Rogers scored all three touchdowns, as well as the extra point.

GREAT FALLS 26, MISSOULA 6.

The powerful delegation arrived from Great Falls with a starting line-up out-weighing the Missoula boys 19 pounds to the player. They also brought with them the tradition of a season, that of an uncrossed goal line. The game was played on Dornblaser Field before a capacity crowd. Although playing

BASKETBALL

Missoula's 1936 Purple and Gold basketball squad started the season with the return of five lettermen, and according to all appearances a successful season was forecasted. The returning regulars were Larry Potter, Burton Perry, Guy Rogers, Herb Searles, and Jack Chidley; and to complete the squad Coach Kain finally selected Stewart, Croonenberghs, Miller, Kaiser, DuVall, McBride, Weikel, Rinke, and Johnson.

At the beginning of the season, Coach Kain remarked that he had one of the smoothest ball-handling clubs he had seen on a high school court, but as the season progressed, the team couldn't hit its stride and lost six consecutive games. The boys won their seventh, lost their eighth by a one-point margin, and then won all the rest of their games until the Northern District Tournament game with Great Falls.

The Northern Zone Tourney at Great Falls in March concluded the season for Missoula. In the first game the Purple and Gold club swamped the Glasgow team 43 to 25, but Great Falls again proved a nemesis and defeated the Missoulians in the second game 51 to 24. The final game, with Havre, was lost by a one-point margin.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE BASKETBALL SEASON

In the all-tournament team selected at Great Falls, Guy Rogers was picked as captain and guard. Although Missoula won only one game in the tournament, Rogers placed as high point man of the contest with 35 points and Larry Potter was second with 33 points. Burton Perry took seventh with 26 points.

Larry Potter wound up the 1936 basketball season as high point man of the squad with 147 points; Guy Rogers, second with 91; and Burton Perry, third with 87.

Although the football and basketball seasons are the most popular in athletic circles for the many individual games played, Missoula's high line in sports is reached in the Annual Interscholastic Track and Field Meet sponsored by the University and held each year at the Dornblaser Field on the University Campus.

At the thirty-second Annual Interscholastic Meet last year, Missoula won second place after yielding first in a hard fought battle to the entrants from Butte Public, 26-41.

GIRLS' ATHLETICS

At the beginning of the school year the G. A. A. gathered at a general meeting with officers presiding who had been elected the previous semester. These were Eileen Hamilton, president; Colby Knapp, vice-president; Doris Buck, secretary; and Margery Walker, hike-chairman.

Under the direction of Miss Marion Davis, sponsor, a schedule for the scholastic year was outlined which included the following sports events: basketball tournament, inter-class volley-ball, baseball, tennis, hiking, and track.

From the players who competed in the basketball tournament was selected an all-star team including Colby Knapp, Ina McComb, Arabel Burgess, Eileen Hamilton, Martha deMers, Shirley Timm, Dorothy Benzel, Maribeth Kitt, Ruth Eastman, and Margery Walker.

The Senior girls captured the Volley-ball Inter-class Contest by defeating the Sophomores in a closely-fought game. The girls playing on the Senior club were Mildred Robinson, Colby Knapp, Ruth Eastman, Margaret Tweto, Marie Ray, Martha deMers, Margaret Howard, and Helen Wayne.

FEATURES

"A Modern Version of Bluebeard"

THE SENIOR CARNIVAL

After a lapse of two years the Senior Carnival, the proceeds of which helped to make the publication of the annual possible, was revived, and the novel entertainment was received enthusiastically.

"The House of Magic," given by the Radio Club, was awarded first place in the judging of the stunts. Charles Luedke, "The Magician," took second place, third place going to the Junior Class for its "Dinner at Eight." The judges were three members of the faculty, Mr. Frank T. Kelley, Miss Hettie Hunt, and Miss Agnes Brown.

Besides these stunts the Sophomore Class presented "Nothing Taken for Granite"; the Spanish Club, "Vaya un Hombre"; the French Club, "Mardi Gras"; the G. A. A., "The Amazons"; the Girls' Club, "The Missile Wet"; the Pep Club, "The Three Little Peppers and How They Grew", a group of senior boys, "Freaks of Chemistry"; and the Senior Class, "A Minstrel Show."

The main show, "A Modern Version of Bluebird," was produced with lavish costumes and scenery by Miss Mary V. Harris and Miss Bernice Beaumont.

The popularity contest was a new feature, the winners, Valerie Kennedy and Guy Rogers, being crowned King and Queen of the Carnival at the dance following the main show.

Other features were the ballet show, which was presented during intermissions of the dance, a fish pond, a dart-throwing game, and some wrestling and boxing matches.

Playing before an attentive audience, "Cock Robin," a mystery drama in three acts by Elmer Rice and Philip Barry, was presented by the Thespians on Friday evening, November 1, 1935, under the direction of Miss Mary V. Harris. At this time the cast definitely settled the century old question of "Who killed Cock Robin?" in the modern version of "Who murdered Hancock Robinson?"

The Cope Valley Players are having their final rehearsal before their presentation of the melodrama, "All for Love," or "The Landlord's Daughter." During the rehearsal grievances of various natures are revealed by the members of the cast who are nervous, out of humor, and suspicious of each other. After an important change in the cast, they go home to rest for the coming performance.

In the next act the set is seen as though the spectators were backstage and watching the performance from there, the scene being the reverse of that of the first act. In the course of the performance of "All for Love," Hancock Robinson is stabbed and killed during the duel scene.

The remainder of the play is concerned with the efforts of the cast to solve the mystery of the murder and the motives leading up to the crime, disclosing a chain of remarkable circumstances, which is done in the surprising way customary to all mystery plays.

Besides the play within a play, of unusual interest was the trick set showing the stage from the point of view of both the audience and the workers backstage. The set, designed and executed under the direction of June Luedke, furnished a realistic background for the action of the play.

Fine characterizations were given by Gladys Luedke, especially in her speech before the curtain previous to the second act; Bert Bartlett as George McAuliffe, the hard-boiled director, who successfully kept the audience from realizing that he was the guilty one; Willis Blanchette as Richard Lane, the jilted hero whose forceful character won out in the end; and Edine Peterson as Maria Scott, the prim, able assistant of Mr. McAuliffe and the girl with the "camera eye" who solved the mystery.

"Quality Street," a sentimental comedy by Sir James M. Barrie, the second major production of the year, was presented under the direction of Miss Mary V. Harris by the Thespians on April 2, 1936 in the auditorium.

The play begins in 1805 in the blue and white room of the home of Miss Susan and Miss Phoebe Throssel. They and their friends, the Misses Willoughby and Miss Henrietta, are waiting hourly for Mr. Valentine Brown to propose to Phoebe. When, however, he tells her that he is going away to the war, Phoebe is visibly agitated and tells Miss Susan she could live it all down but for the fact that he had kissed her once. Moreover, she had already learned that half of their income, which they had invested on the advice of Mr. Brown, has been lost. In their distress the two sisters decide to open a school "for genteel children only."

Ten years later, after the Battle of Waterloo, "Miss Phoebe of the ringlets," who has hidden her curls under a boudoir cap, is found tired and embittered by Valentine, just returned from the war. Later in the evening when he returns to take them to the ball he finds her in the old wedding dress Miss Susan had made her. He does not recognize her and she, realizing that he does not, pretends to be her niece, Livvy.

A week later, Phoebe, still masquerading as Livvy, thinks that Valentine is about "to declare himself," when, instead, he severely reprimands her and points out in her character the things that fortunately are not to be found in her Aunt Phoebe's. Thenceforth, it is the foremost desire of both Phoebe and Miss Susan to have Livvy return whence she come.

Unfortunately for them it is not so easy to be rid of Livvy as it might be imagined for the Misses Willoughby watch continually from their window across Quality Street. Through Patty, their maid, Valentine discovers the deception and by a clever ruse manages to have Livvy go back to the country, after which he proposes to Phoebe, causing the play to end happily, as all sentimental comedies do.

The attractive set, designed and painted by Norma Wheatley and Justine Hughes, and the costumes of the Napoleonic Period were part of the many pleasing features of the production.

Outstanding performances were given by Camilla McCormick, as Miss Susan; Helen Faulkner as Phoebe; Willis Blanchette, as Valentine Brown; and Jean Dickson, as Patty.

"THE KOPEE"

Proving by its first issue that a high school magazine can be both literary and interesting was the record of the "Kopee." Started as a project of the Margaret Ronan Chapter of Quill and Scroll, the magazine, the purpose of which is to give students an opportunity to do creative writing and to give student journalists first-hand experience in magazine make-up, has been successful. Because of the interest aroused by the first issue, it was decided to make it a regular feature of Missoula County High School.

Under the sponsorship of Miss Ione Lake, journalism instructor, the "Kopee" had three Quill and Scroll members in charge: Walter Coombs and Lester Chacey as co-editors, and Anne Forssen as business manager.

Stories for the publication were accepted from members of each class in the school. The contributing author for the first issue was Mr. Frank B. Linderman, well known western and Indian story writer. Virginia Miller, a sophomore, was the artist who designed the Indian cut for the cover.

Although no profit was made, the interest that was shown was indicative of the growing need for such a project.

The last issue of the "Kopee" for the year appeared near the end of the second semester and was equally an achievement. Similar to the preceding issue, this one had a cover design worked out in a Western theme by Virginia Miller. Dean A. L. Stone was the guest writer, while the staff remained the same.

SONGS AND YELLS

MISSOULA HIGH

Oh, let us sing of Missoula High, the queen of all the West,
In a song of more battles to win,
For we're many valiant fighting men who always do our best;
And we never as yet gave in,
And we never as yet gave in,
And for Missoula High School we will fight with all our might,
For we're ever loyal and true;
And we'll conquer all the rivals that come within our sight,
And we'll look around for more when we are through.

CHORUS

Oh! Missoula High! Missoula High!
May your name grow in fame as you grow old;
May you ever be glorious,
Crowned and set among your hills of gold.

'Tis not only a fighting song that every student sings
In our High School among the hills;
'Tis a song of many fair co-eds, a thousand other things,
That our hearts with joy do fill.
That our hearts with joy fill.
You can talk about your Butte High, indeed, and all the rest,
For they're honored, too, among their own;
But give to us Missoula High, the queen of all the West,
She's the best that the West has ever known.

We're loyal to you, Missoula High;
We're steadfast and true, Missoula High;
We'll back you to stand
Against the best in the land
For we know you have sand
Missoula High, Ra, Ra;
So follow the ball, Missoula High,
We're backing you all, Missoula High,
Our team is our famed protector
On boys! for we expect a victory
From you, Missoula High.

On Missoula, On Missoula
Get that ball in line
Throw it right into the basket,
Score boys score this time
Rah! Rah! Rah!
On Missoula, On Missoula,
Fight on for your fame,
Fight fellows, fight, fight, fight.
We'll win this game.

Rah! Rah! Rah, rah, rah
Rah! Rah! Rah, rah, rah
Rah! Rah! Rah, rah, rah
Missoula!

And when our old eleven hits that line,
It's going to rip, snip, bend, break, every time!
And when around the end we make a ten,
And when that's done, we'll hit that line again.
And if we ever meet a tougher foe,
Coach Sam Kain will want to know;
And our boys will fight with might and main
To get that name
For old Missoula High!

Let's give a cheer for old M. H. S.
Out of them all she's best in the west;
Let her royal colors show
That victory and honor is her goal.
Onward forever she'll take the ball;
Though she may stumble,
She'll never fall
Crowned among her hills of gold.
It's hats off to M. H. S.

THE EVOLUTION OF JUMBO

One day in prehistoric times when flowers graced the land
Where Missoula fair now graces it, and in her beauty stands,
The King of Elephants it chanced, the King of Serpents, too,
Went prowling through the world to find fresh fields and pastures new.

Of course the elephant, intent upon his mission great,
With wily brain went forth alone in solitary state;
Alone went he upon his quest, Utopia to gain,
And knew the serpent's mission not, so cunning were the twain.

At last upon their wanderings in lovely spring's embrace,
They found our garden valley here, and met—each face to face.
The elephant in thunderous tones declared his claim was first;
The serpent hissed the plea with scorn, the while his wrath he nursed.

Now while they both contended for our fertile valley fair
Their arguments grew louder and like thunder filled the air;
Until it reached the ears of Jove, who frantic at their spleen,
Decided there and then to work a transformation scene.

And stretching forth his hand, he spoke: "The elephant shall be
A silent mountain doomed to watch throughout eternity
The rich prize which he coveted. The serpent here shall be
A sparkling streamlet rushing through parched hills refreshingly."

Lo, as he spoke, the elephant sank down in majesty.
The serpent turned to water and gushed forth in noisy glee.
So thus old Jumbo to this day, his guard at Hell Gate keeps,
While ever on its winding way the Rattlesnake still leaps.
